

Assignment (Every Week)

All the students are supposed to go through one good Research Paper related to the topic being covered in the respective week. It is advised that the paper is chosen from top five journals of that field.

Students are supposed to write a one page brief of the paper in their own language. It should be the summarized crux of the paper. So, paper should be properly read for its key issues and content.

These one page briefs are to be shared between the peers for the critical analysis and inputs on the quality of the brief written by other students. In total every student will be going through and writing the brief for 15 papers (i.e. one every week). The objective of the exercise to test the capacity and understanding of the student in doing literature survey and making the most out of any research paper and its relevance and context in his own area of work.
