

1	Match the following in the given sequence Back End                      a. Data tier Front End                      b. business tier Brain of application        c. presentation tier A. abc                              B. cba                              C. acb                              D. bca
2	Match the following in the given sequence Automating the storage of volatile data        a. Authorization service Google, yahoo, AltaVista                      b. Directory service Repository of information about objects        c. Search engines Identifying the user's rights for access        d. Persistence service A. abdc                              B. dcba                              C. dbca                              D. dabc
3	Which of the following is false A. TCP stands for Transmission Control Protocol B. 80 port number is used by HTTP C. HTTP 1.1 provides persistent connection D. HTTP protocol is stateful protocol
4	In sub-netting A. Host Id part is divided B. Network Id part is divided C. Both Ids are divided D. None of above
5	Which among the following standards is language independent as well as platform independent A. CORBA                              B. .NET                              C. J2EE                              D. JDBC
6	HTTP uses the following method for sending data A. GET B. POST C. HEAD D. All Of Above
7	Match the following in the given sequence Java Servlets                      a. Java program suited to handle and route Web requests Java Server Pages                      b. For creating dynamic web pages using Java as scripting language Web sphere                              c. Web server by Microsoft IIS Server                              d. Web server by IBM A. abcd                              B. abdc                              C. badc                              D. bacd
8	Following device forwards data across networks A. Node B. Router C. Switch D. None of above